New Shallowford Square Playground

All work and lots of play! The playground is officially open and is already receiving plenty of love. This new structure sits at the upper end of Shallowford Square and features an impressive 5,000-square-foot play space with multiple slides, games, and climbing features. The previous swing set was replaced with more swings. The area is partially fenced in to provide a barrier from the roads.

“While it was disappointing to lose our previous playground at Shallowford Square due to the construction of the Great Wagon Road, I’m pleased the Town was able to do a much bigger, better playground for our youngest residents,” Town Manager Stacy Tolbert said. “Hearing the playful noises just across the street from Town Hall brings joy to my day.”

JodyAnn's Story of Power of Perseverance

Every Veteran carries a unique story of service, sacrifice, and resilience. For many, one of the greatest challenges begins not during their military service, but after it ends.

Service members are part of a mission larger than themselves, working alongside others who share a commitment to serving our nation. When that chapter closes, many Veterans face the difficult task of rediscovering who they are and what comes next.

Lewisville resident and U.S. Air Force Veteran JodyAnn Henaman knows that challenge firsthand.

Raised in a family of service members and Veterans, JodyAnn knew from the early age of 10 that she wanted to serve her country.

During her military career, JodyAnn experienced traumatic events that led to posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and brought her service to an unexpected end. Returning home proved difficult. Like many Veterans navigating the transition to civilian life, she struggled with depression and the loss of the identity and purpose that military service had provided.

JodyAnn found herself confronting painful memories that intensified her mental health struggles. At one point, the challenges became so overwhelming that she was unable to continue working. For many individuals, such circumstances can feel insurmountable.

Instead, JodyAnn made a courageous decision. She decided to commit herself to healing and rebuilding her life.

Through the Department of Veterans Affairs' Veterans Readiness and Employment program, coupled with therapy and unwavering determination, she returned to the classroom. She excelled academically, graduating with honors at age 52. She earned an Associate Degree in Medical Office Administration, multiple certifications in the medical field, and plans to obtain a bachelor's degree in social work.

Her goal is to transform her experiences into a source of support and encouragement for fellow Veterans facing their own challenges.

JodyAnn's story is a powerful reminder that healing is possible, setbacks do not define our future, and it is never too late to pursue new goals. Her perseverance, determination, and commitment to serving others embody the very best of our community.

I'm proud to recognize JodyAnn Henaman for her accomplishments and for the inspiring example she sets for Veterans and residents alike. Through resilience and hard work, she has turned adversity into opportunity and found a new mission of service, proving that while a military career may end, a life of purpose can continue in remarkable ways.

Certification Committee. She has also served for one year as the Recording Secretary for the NCAMC Executive Board and as the NCAMC District 9 Director for two years. She also hosted a one-day Spring Regional Event (central state regional) and an annual Summer Conference.

"Lewisville has always won big in the Town Clerk field, and that record continues with Angie Lord," Town Manager Stacy Tolbert said. "Angie is no stranger to hard work and going above and beyond in everything that she does. We are so proud of her and her accomplishments."

Angie started with the Town of Lewisville in May of 2025, after working as a clerk for the City of Greensboro with 12+ years of clerk experience. Before working in government, she worked in preschool education.

Angie is currently participating in the University of North Carolina School of Government Working Group. Outside of work, she also serves on the Grays Chapel Global Methodist Church Preschool Board.

We are lucky to have Angie in the Town of Lewisville. Please join us in congratulating Angie on her tremendous achievements!

dedicated contractors have put their heart and soul into making it a welcoming place for all.

A ribbon-cutting was held on September 10 to officially mark the opening of the space. Thank you to the Town Council for marking this exciting occasion.

But the fun doesn't stop there! A new shade canopy will be installed to offer a cool space for families. More information about this will be posted on the Town website as it becomes available. To learn more about this project, please visit LewisvilleNC.net/Projects.

Please help us to keep this shared space clean and welcoming for all. If you see vandalism or damaging behavior, please report it to the Forsyth County Sheriff's Office at 336-727-2112, their non-emergency number, or the Lewisville Public Works Department at 336-945-1020. El Niño My Gosh

The calendar turned September 1st and my notes read - "Snow Plan". I'm not sure if that technically qualifies as an oxymoron, but recent experience puts planning for winter in the same category as plotting a route through Lewisville that doesn't involve a lane closure. It's a gamble at best. As I've cracked open the sealed mental vaults that contain the dark memories of last year's snow and ice blast, I've begun to pluck a few useful lessons from the smoldering heap. We had more people and resources on hand last year than ever before in Lewisville and we still fell short in a historic weather pattern. We've added equipment and contractors and will continue adding capability this year and in the future, especially as our partners at the North Carolina Department of Transportation (NCDOT) continue to deal with their own resource shortfalls.

And... speaking of historic weather patterns, now we're looking at what could be the strongest El Niño ever. I mean, why not? Everything else about 2026 has been wildly erratic and historically unpredictable, so while we're at it, let's mix in some extra weather craziness. Maybe we can get a polar vortex or two tossed into this blender.

Hopefully, we'll get lucky. But if we don't, PLEASE do your part to help us clear roads and keep everyone safe. Familiarize yourself with state roads vs. town roads and know that we depend on NCDOT to clear those state roads. Keep cars and other things out of the street and stay clear of snowplows. If you don't have to be out, PLEASE stay home. The hardest part of clearing a road is often working around all the people that are out driving on roads that are unsafe for travel.

Also, the trash will be picked up when the roads are safe for the drivers and their huge heavy trucks to get to our streets. Please keep in mind that if a reindeer can't make it down Grapevine Road, a trash truck can't either!

When winter weather strikes, we're all working on it and doing the best we can.

Lewisville Gets Moving in MOVember

By: Michelle Bennett, Customer Service Representative/Event Coordinator

Temps are finally cooler and Fall is in the air. What better time than now to get outside and take on the MOVember challenge? During the month of MOVember (November 1-30) we are challenging residents to walk 50 miles or 132,000 steps anywhere and anytime and track all of it. You can find the tracker on our website at LewisvilleNC.net/fitnesswalk or swing by Town Hall to pick one up. Submit your printed tracker to Town Hall or email it to Reception@LewisvilleNC.net by Wednesday, December 2 to be entered in a drawing for the winning gift card. So, grab those sneakers and start making those strides...and counting them....towards wellness!

Town Website Gets a New Look

Next time you pull up the Town website at LewisvilleNC.net, things will look a little different! We have been undergoing a year-long redesign of the website as part of our ongoing efforts to be more accessible for our residents and best serve Lewisville.

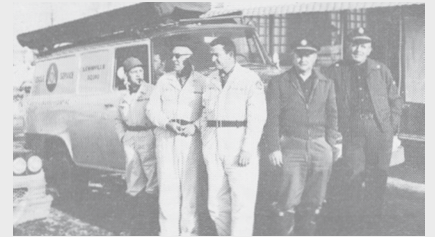

Changes to the website include creating a dedicated calendar page for the Mary Alice Warren Community Center programs, instead of hosting them on the Town Calendar. Quick links are now located on the homepage, connecting residents quickly to pertinent information. The overall look of the website is also sleeker and meets recommended accessibility guidelines for color and font. Thank you to our web developers for their care in building the updated website.

From the Firehouse

LFD for 75 Years

Since its founding in 1951, the Lewisville Fire Department has grown from a community-built volunteer force into a modern public safety organization serving the area with career staff and dedicated volunteers.

Established by the Lewisville Civic Club, the department began when local residents organized a formal volunteer force and built its first station behind what is now the Masonic Lodge building. The new department was created to protect the community from fires and strengthen local public safety.

Within its first year, the department answered 32 alarms and became the first in the area to require specialized training for its members, setting an early standard for professionalism and preparedness.

Community support also helped the department expand its equipment. At the time, Lewisville became the only local department with two fire trucks, including a specialized unit equipped with high-pressure fog pumps. A Chevy pumper was added in 1954, followed by a civil defense rescue truck in 1959.

Although the department was built on the volunteer tradition of neighbors helping neighbors, it has continued to evolve with the community. Today, the Lewisville Fire Department combines career personnel and committed volunteers to meet the needs of a growing service area while carrying forward the spirit of public service that began more than seven decades ago.

Environmental Conservation & Sustainability Committee (ECSC)

You are reading the last Lewisville Citizen for 2026, a good time to reflect on the work of the Environmental Conservation and Sustainability Committee and the role our community plays in protecting the environment. We evolved from the Recycling Committee, started in 1991 with a mission to create a strong local recycling program. Thanks to the participation of Lewisville residents, that mission has been a huge success. Our recycling collection rate is up to 94%. Thanks to all of you who fill your bi-weekly bins!

In 2017, the committee expanded its focus beyond recycling to address broader goals. Along with a new, admittedly lengthy name, came new opportunities to support conservation, energy awareness, waste reduction, and community education. Our special Recycling Events continued, one of which grew into Lewisville Earth Day and has now expanded into the Town's spring Community Day. Through our partnership with Terracycle, residents can now recycle more items at our recycling events that are not accepted in curbside collection. We helped develop the Town's 2021 Clean Energy Resolution. Currently, members are working on Resolution updates and data collection to catalogue the Town's energy goals. We have partnered with local schools and aim to promote environmental awareness among all ages.

Whether you recycle, conserve energy, reduce waste, volunteer in the community, or simply make thoughtful choices every day, your actions make a difference. Together, we can continue to build a more sustainable Lewisville by using the four Rs: Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.

Happy Holidays and best wishes for a sustainable New Year!
