Bulky Item Pickup Begins Sept. 10

The next Bulky Item Pick-Up event will be held Monday, September 10. Those residents wishing to participate in the pickup should have all acceptable bulky items curbside by 7 a.m.

Bulky item collection events are held a few times per year and provide Lewisville residents an easy and convenient way to dispose of unwanted, large items that would otherwise need to be taken to the landfill. Town Hall has received recent calls about the event, so Town staff is anticipating high participation from Lewisville residents.

Walker Chosen NCAMC 2018 Clerk of the Year

The North Carolina Association of Municipal Clerks (NCAMC) chose Town of Lewisville Clerk, Joyce Walker, as the 2018 Clerk of the Year. Walker accepted the award at the association's Summer Academy in August.

Walker has 18 years of municipal service serving as town clerk for Lewisville. This is especially

WALKER

From your Mayor Well-Deserved, Joyce!

"Don't worry when you are not recognized, but strive to be worthy of recognition. "

— Abraham Lincoln

If you've been around Lewisville for a while, chances are you know our town clerk, Mrs. Joyce Walker. That's because for more than 22 years, her presence has been felt throughout our town government and our community.

If you've served on a committee, attended a town event, come by Town Hall with a question or have been part of most anything that has to do with Lewisville you know Joyce.

Her positive attitude, cheerful spirit and sense of humor are her trademarks. I really don't think she has had a bad day, or if she did we didn't know it. I wish I could bottle Joyce and make it the mandatory breakfast beverage for everyone.

Every day, in every way, what she does on behalf of our residents is extraordinary. Her knowledge and experience are, quite frankly, irreplaceable. And while her kerfuffles with technology are legendary (if she touches it, it breaks), her institutional recall of the town's workings over the last two decades is remarkable.

Few people I've met are as dedicated to their job as Mrs. Walker. Before most of us arrive at work in the morning and oftentimes long after most of us have gone home for the day, you will find Joyce at town hall engaged in her duties or more likely doing something for someone else that has nothing to do with her job description.

Her expectations of herself in her service to the town reflect the great American work ethic that was the hallmark of her generation.

And while so many folks today have difficulty finding time to become involved in their communities, Joyce, with her highly supportive and great-natured husband Clint in tow, has always jumped in with both feet, not seeking personal recognition, but because it is her desire to "do good" for a town about which she cares so much.

At 75-years young, and after a successful first career, she is well past the need to build a resume. She is far more interested today in helping to strengthen our town's sense of community and to keep us the special place that we've become.

I don't know if I have ever told Joyce this, but she makes me a better mayor. The many ways in which she supports me are immeasurable, often anticipating what I need, before I know I need it. Her insight and understanding of our community are invaluable. She is a trusted friend not just to me, but to so many of our residents. We have become part of her extended family and she has become a part of ours.

Therefore, it was truly fitting, appropriate and well deserved that on Saturday, August 18th at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Association of Municipal Clerks that Mrs. Joyce McWilliams Walker was recognized as North Carolina's Municipal Clerk of the Year!

I know you join me in extending our sincerest congratulations to Joyce on this honor. It truly is worthy of recognition.

As always, I welcome your comments.

impressive in that Walker has already retired from a career with a telephone company prior to coming to work for the Town.

"She shows up to work with the consistency of clock work and her dedication to her job is unmatched," Town Manager Hank Perkins wrote in his nomination letter for Walker's award. "Mrs. Walker has always strived to do the best she can do as Town Clerk of the Town of Lewisville."

Walker is a long-time member of the NCAMC, joining in 2000. She was one of the first clerks to achieve North Carolina Certified Municipal Clerk in 2012 and was re-certified in 2017. "The Town is proud to be able to offer this service to its residents," Town Manager Hank Perkins said.

"But not just anything can be placed curbside for pick-up. Guidelines for what is accepted and what is prohibited can be found on the Lewisville website, www.lewisvillenc.net and on Channel 6.

"It's important for residents to follow the guidelines from Waste Management when participating in these bulky item collections," said Perkins.

"Every time crews have to stop and inspect possible unacceptable items or encounter residences with mixed items, it causes a major slowdown in collection service."

Crews are instructed to completely bypass any residences that include both acceptable and unacceptable items in the curbside collection.

If you are unsure if an item is acceptable, visit the town's website or call Town Hall at 336-945-5558. If delays occur during pick-up, updates will be posted to Channel 6, the Town's website and Facebook Page.

Lewisville gets Blessing Box

Lewisville is the latest town in America to have a free pantry Blessings Box. These boxes have been popping up in towns across the country for the past few years. There are no forms to fill out and no locks on the doors. The box provides a source of food and personal items to those in need. According to the Food Research and Action Center, 62,590 people in Forsyth County are food insecure. Many of these people are children. The Blessing Box is located in the west parking lot of Lewisville United Methodist Church. The sign on the box says, "Take what you need. Leave what you can. Above all, be blessed." The box is a project by a member of the American Heritage Girls Troop NC0608 that meets at the church. In creating the box, troop member Mary Grace Watkins will earn her Stars and Stripes Award. It is the highest award in American Heritage Girls and required Watkins and her friends to devote 100 hours to the completion of the box as well as raise the money for its construction. Watkins, a senior at West Forsyth High School said, "My hope for the Blessings Box is that it will bless all who get involved with it, not only the receiver of the gifts but also the giver."
